Outreach Opportunities for your Sixth Formers with Unis and Employers - virtual and real, all FREE

We have received countless emails from students and teachers asking what sixth formers can do to help with their university and job applications during this somewhat unusual year (!). So we contacted our colleagues at employers and universities and asked them to send up opportunities - most virtual, some in real life with social distancing and other safety measures in place - which we have collated here:

<http://purepotential.org/events-opportunities/>

Every addition to a CV or personal statement will count for something and show that your students have been proactive about their futures during lockdown. You'll find entries for budding barristers from Inner Temple, universities such as UCL, Manchester, Derby, Imperial College, Reading and Queen Mary as well as organisations such as UpReach and PRIME.

We will be constantly updating these opportunities as more come in, so please do check regularly and let parents know about it too - please consider including the Events & opportunities webpage in an email or newsletter.
